IN THE SPRING!

In the vegetable kingdom, the sap or vital fluid rises from the roots to the trunk and branches, producing leaf and flower. So in the human family, the change is as great, for the blood, if not in good condition, must throw off its impurities. In this it is necessary to assist nature, and nothing is so good to as Swift's Specific. It helps nature to relieve the body, and at the same time tone it up.

Mr. RALPH ELKINS lives at Marionsville, Mo., and is a successful farmer. He says that he has been a great sufferer from impurities of the blood, which made his limbs stiff and gave him pain in the lungs, but that he took Swift's Specific and it soon relieved him entirely.

MILLINERY!

Our show room was crowded yesterday afternoon, and the great number of Hats sold this spring is astonishing—even greater than we anticipated.

Our most sanguine expectations are more than realized, but we might have known it would be so, for the line of stylish millinery we carry is second to none in the city. The ladies are criterions in elaborate millinery, and they all agree in giving us the preference.

Our Pattern Hats win many exclamations of amazement for their beauty, style and finish. We have some of the most lovely ones left, which we will show Saturday morning, with more on the way to us.

We are in the front with all kinds of Trimmed Hats at various prices; 25 dozen of handsome roses in large clusters—these are beautiful and extremely cheap—at 23c.

JEALOUSY WAS THE CAUSE

A Triple Tragedy Reported at Dennison, O.

George Moore, Shoots His Wife, a Saloonkeeper and Ends His Own Trouble.

Dennison, O., April 25.—At 6:30 this morning George Moore shot his wife, killing her instantly; shot Edward McClelland, a saloonkeeper, badly wounding him, and then fatally shot himself.

Moore is employed by the Panhandle Railway company and works at night.

McClelland is a saloonkeeper and boards at Moore's house. Moore and his wife had had a great deal of trouble lately, growing out of the suspicion on Moore's part that his wife was maintaining improper relations with McClelland.

When Moore returned from work this morning he found his wife sitting at work at her sewing machine. Without saying a word he drew a revolver and shot her through the head, killing her instantly. He then ran into an adjoining room where McClelland was sleeping and fired two shots at him, one striking him in the forehead.

Moore then ran from the house to the residence of his mother-in-law, near by, and shot himself through the head and is now dying.

ALL IS PEACE.

Bering Sea Matters Discussed in the Commons.

London, April 25.—In the house of commons to-day Mr. Lawther, parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, said in reply to Mr. Bryce, of Aberdeen, that there was complete accord between the United States and Great Britain on the question of a modus vivendi in Bering Sea, pending the consideration of the Bering Sea question by the arbitrators.

A convention on the subject had been signed at Washington, but the terms had not yet reached the government of Great Britain. The British government was preparing to consult with Canada in regard to the selection of an arbitrator. The British arbitrator had not yet been fixed upon.

ROME IS ALARMED

At the Work of the Anarchists,

And Men of Noble Birth are Uneasy.

Banks and Public Buildings Barricaded

To Prevent an Attack from the People.

Austria's Friendly Feeling for the Vatican Has Caused Her Representatives to be in Danger at the Hands of a Mob.

Rome, April 25.—The authorities to-day began the work of barricading the residences of officials and also the banks.

This is done in view of disturbances which occurred yesterday, and of the apprehension of more serious disturbances.

The working classes are greatly stirred up by the prospect of a renewal of the flour tax, this being used as an argument to excite them against the government.

The extreme socialists are very active, and besides appealing to the prejudice against the moneyed and upper classes, they have enlisted the sympathies and cooperation of the irredentist agitators.

Threats are freely uttered against the Austrians and there is reason to fear that in the event of a riot, the Austrian embassy would be assailed.

For this reason the lower windows of the Austrian embassy are being walled up strongly enough to prevent any assailants from entering or shooting into the embassy. The members and servants of the embassy are armed, and every preparation has been made to give a deadly reception to a mob.

The feeling against the Austrians is running very high, partly because of the close friendship shown between the vatican and the Austrian court.

King Humbert has given particular instructions to protect the embassy from violence and the troops of the garrison are kept ready to go to the rescue at the first sign of danger.

The preparations made by the authorities are so extensive and serious that the public are more alarmed thereby than by the threats and demonstrations of the anarchists.

The opinion prevails that these preparations would not be made unless the authorities had information of a dangerous conspiracy which they have not made public.

The greatest uneasiness prevails and people of means are secreting their valuables, and following the example of the officials in making their residences ready to offer some resistance to a mob, in case of attack.

Access to the palaces of the nobility is made extremely difficult especially of the nobility known to adhere to the vatican, and galleries of paintings and statuary that have been readily accessible to visitors are now surrounded with safeguards that are both novel and inconvenient.

The military authorities have doubled the guards where arms and munitions are stored, as it is feared that the anarchists may try to create a panic in advance of an uprising by causing an explosion similar to that which shook Rome to its foundations about a year ago.

It is known that the officials have been extremely reticent for some time past, while at the same time quietly making the preparations, of which to-day's work is the open continuation.

This reticence, it is reported, has been inspired by a desire not to deter visitors from coming to Rome.

The situation is now, however, so serious, and the danger of an outbreak so pressing, that steps are being taken to meet the peril without any concealment whatever.

PRESIDENT FOR LIFE.

Theosophists Decline to Accept the Resignation of Their Chief Executive.

Chicago, April 25.—The American section of the International Society of Theosophists, at its annual convention at the Palmer house Sunday, declined to accept the resignation of Col. H. S. Olcott, as president of the organization, and intimated its desire that he continue in that position for life.

The convention was participated in by over 100 delegates, including many women. Proxies for about 50 more were presented, while the spirits of the departed theosophists were supposed to be hovering around and exerting a benign influence upon the deliberations.

The cities directly represented included New York, Boston, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Minneapolis, Omaha, Cleveland, Washington, New Orleans, and numerous smaller places in California, Iowa, Michigan, and Nebraska.

Judge W. McBride, of Fort Wayne, was chosen as president; G. R. S. Mead was received as a delegate from the European section, and a cablegram of greeting was presented from Annie Besant, of London, with letters breathing good will from India, Dublin, Barcelona, and Amsterdam.

BISHOP OF BROOKLYN

Most Impressive Ceremonies of the Day

At the Consecration of Bishop McDonnell.

Catholics in Attendance from all Parts of the Country to Witness the Scene

New York, April 25.—The new chimes of St. Patrick's cathedral rang out this morning in honor of Brooklyn's new bishop Mgr Charles E. McDonnell, while an immense assemblage of Catholics were massed in front of the edifice, slowly making its way into the vast interior where one of the most imposing ceremonies of the church, the consecration of a bishop, was in progress.

Prominent clergymen and laymen from all over the country were there to participate in the ceremonies. Since the consecration of Bishop O'Farrell, of Trenton, eleven years ago, no such ceremony has taken place.

At 10 o'clock the procession of priests and bishops, headed by the cross-bearer, attended by acolytes, passed to the sanctuary. As the procession moved on, Prof. Pecher, the organist, played a march from Wagner for orchestra and organ. The spectacle was one of extraordinary brilliancy, and the vast audience standing in the pews, viewed the splendid pageantry of surpliced acolytes and priests and prelates robed in their vestments of purple and gold, with that eager expectancy that marks all assemblages at the opening of great ceremonials.

And when the actors in this solemn but magnificent ceremony had bowed before the altar and disposed themselves in orderly groupings about the chancel prepared to begin the performance of the rites prescribed for the elevation and consecration of a priest as bishop, the congregation began to realize the magnificent ceremonial that was to follow.

Archbishop Corrigan was the consecrator and the celebrant of the solemn pontifical mass, during which the ceremony of consecrating the bishop-elect was performed. The assistant consecrators were the Right Rev. Bernard J. McQuaid, bishop of Rochester, and the Right Rev. Francis Silas Chatard, bishop of Vincennes, Ind., formerly rector of the American college at Rome, who ordained Dr. McDonnell to the priesthood in May, 1878.

The chancel choir of surpliced boys augmented by about fifty priests and laymen under the direction of the Rev. John A. Kellner, sang in Gregorian chant the responses, the office of consecration and the sanctus and Agnus Dei of the mass.

The regular choir of the cathedral, consisting of the quartet, assisted by an augmented chorus of 75 voices, under the direction of Prof. W. F. Pecher, sang the mass of Kallivooda, specially arranged for the occasion.

After the archbishop had been duly vested at his throne on the gospel side of the grand altar, he proceeded to a stool placed in the middle of the grand altar and sat down. Bishop-elect McDonnell vested in amice, alb, cincture and red stole, and wearing his black baretta or cap, was led from his chapel between the assistants, Bishops McQuaid and Chatard, also vested and mitred, and on coming before the archbishop uncovered his head and made a profound bow. Then he and the bishops took seats and a moment later the formal services of the consecration were opened by Archbishop Corrigan and Bishop McQuaid.

FOUND DROWNED.

Boston, April 25.—The dead body of Stillman W Engell, doorkeeper of the state senate, was found about 6 o'clock last night on the Charles river flats near the Harvard bridge, Cambridge. The body was badly decomposed, but there were no marks of violence upon it, nor no signs of foul play.

HIS CHECK NOT CASHED

Bold Attempt to Rob a Western Bank.

A Rash Young Man Makes a Demand for $2,500 and Don't Get It.

Salt Lake, Utah, April 25.—W. C. Austin made a most audacious, though unsuccessful attempt to rob the Utah National bank Saturday. His act is only paralleled by that of the man who, three years ago, held up David Moffet, president of the First National bank of Denver, for $2,100. Austin entered the bank with the utmost nonchalence, walked up to the desk and wrote out this extraordinary demand on the back of a blank check: "Give me $2,500 instantly or I will blow your brains out."

The paying teller, whom he covered with a revolver, concealed by his overcoat which hung over his arm, believing he had to deal with a lunatic, reached for some currency to meet the demand. Then he remembered that the counter was made of stone, and he dropped behind it, yelling: "Arrest the robber!"

Austin, seeing he was foiled, fled, but was shortly after arrested. He is believed to be crazy.

ATTACKED A TRAIN

Desperate Gang of Kansas Toughs

Attempt to Rob the Kansas Pacific.

The Passengers, However, Were Prepared,

And a Lively Battle Took Place.

The Only Person Injured Was an Infant Who Was Hit by a Stone and Cut by Broken Glass.

Wallace, Kas., April 25.—The remnant of a gang of toughs that have been hanging around Wallace made an attempt to rob the west-bound passenger train on the Kansas Pacific here last night.

Late in the evening several citizens were run to their homes at the point of a pistol. As the train pulled in at 11:15 p. m. the gang at the station demanded the money box of the operator, but, by suddenly extinguishing the light and concealing the cash, he saved the money, but came within an ace of losing his life, for a bullet went crashing past his head.

The robbers then turned their attention to the train. Hearing the pistol shot at the station the passengers were on their guard before the train stopped, and as the robbers attempted to board the train the passengers met them with drawn weapons.

Several shots were exchanged, rocks and track bolts were hurled against the windows by the robbers during the melee and 17 plate glass windows were shattered in the coaches.

An infant was seriously injured by a rock and shattered glass falling on its head. While the excitement was at its height the train pulled out. After firing again at the station house the toughs mounted their horses and fled south. The sheriff and a posse are in pursuit.

HE WAS A PEACEMAKER,

And Got the Top of His Head Blown Off for His Trouble.

Houston, Tex., April 25.—Yesterday afternoon Lucy Foster and her husband were having a row at their home in the Fourth ward, and the woman had a gun with which she was threatening her husband.

Andrew Saunders, an aged man, appeared upon the scene in the role of a peacemaker, and was shot and killed by the woman, having the top of his head blown off. The woman claims the killing was accidental, and gave herself up to the authorities.

TANGLED ELECTION LAWS

Ohio Politicians Trying to Figure Them Out.

All the Bill Will be Printed in a Few Days and Distributed by Mr. Poorman.

Columbus, April 25.—Secretary of State Poorman's mail consists in large part of inquiries concerning the new election laws.

There is a great desire upon the part of the leading men in every county in both parties to read for themselves the laws which will govern the election next fall.

The Fisher and Nichols bills have not yet been printed, and they will not be given to the printer until Tuesday or Wednesday. Both laws will doubtless be in the hands of election officers and members of the legislature within a week. Really the only election officers now are the secretary of state, who is ex-officio state supervisor of elections, and the board of elections in Cleveland and Cincinnati.

All the county boards were abolished by the Fisher law and their places will be filled by Secretary Poorman when he appoints the four county deputy supervisors for all the counties except Cuyahoga and Hamilton.

This task of appointing 86 boards, consisting of a total of 344 men, 172 republicans and an equal number of democrats, Col. Poorman has not yet undertaken, nor will he take up the burden until the laws have been printed and he has had time to studiously read them.

There is a widespread interest in these laws, which are framed so as to avoid all the jagged points in the constitution of 1851 and to still accomplish the object which was aimed at by the legislation enacted by the Sixty-ninth general assembly. The author of the Fisher law thinks he did this, but he was willing to admit that perhaps the supreme court would not see things as he saw them when he compiled his bill, so he worked for the passage of the Nichols bill, which was largely the work of Attorney General Richards, and which becomes operative only in the event that the Fisher law is declared unconstitutional.

ASSAULTED A POLICEMAN.

Elizabeth, N. J., April 25.—While Policeman Wm. Martin was patroling the boulevard between this place and Newark at 3 o'clock this morning he was assaulted by some unknown man and seriously stabbed in the face and neck. The man escaped.

"DOWN WITH THE POPE"

Religious Warfare in Ireland.

A Church Stoned, the Windows Broken and the Priest Has a Narrow Escape.

Dublin, April 25.—A flagrant outrage was perpetrated last evening at Edenderry, near Portadown, about ten miles from Armagh.

Several miscreants supposed to belong to an Orange lodge in that vicinity, attacked the chapel at a time when there was no chance for anyone to protect it, and smashed the doors and windows.

The priest at the time was officiating at evening service, and a volley of stones was thrown through a window, one of them nearly striking his nose.

An attempt was made to catch the miscreants, but they succeeded in making their escape crying: "Down with the Pope." This is not the first time that outrages have been committed at this chapel. On several previous occasions, within the past few months windows have been smashed and doors damaged.

The trouble is said to have originated in an attack on an Orange procession, on the last anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, the Orangemen having been taken unawares and terribly thrashed by a crowd armed with shillelahs.

One of them was captured, it is said, and compelled to drink the Pope' health. This is the one who is suspected of being the leader of the chapel outrage.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Monticello, Ind., April 25.—Miss Mary Feeney was burned to death at her home near here Saturday evening. She was out in the field burning stalks when her clothing caught fire. She started on a run for the house, and the wind catching the flames enveloped her and she was burned to a crisp.

BUILDING COLLAPSED.

An Accident at Chicago Resulting in the Serious Injury to Several Persons.

Chicago, April 25.—By the collapse of a one and a half story brick cottage a number of people were injured, two, and perhaps three, fatally. Workmen were engaged in an attempt to move the structure from the front to the rear of a lot on Fullerton avenue.

They had moved it several feet when the collapse came, and the whole mass of bricks and mortar crushed a small shed in which Mrs. E. Lockertz was standing, fatally injuring her. The other injured were workmen.

They are Henry M. Hannes, Adam Miller, and Anton Liesen, who were seriously injured. All the victims were buried under the debris and it took a squad of rescuers over two hours to reach them.

The foreman of the gang of workmen, John Gielemer, disappeared immediately after the crash. The police are searching for him.

SECRETARY BAYARD.

He Sees a Chance for Democracy to Come to the Front.

Wilmington, Del., April 25.—In an interview Saturday ex-Secretary Bayard said: "I think the action of the coming national democratic convention will probably have the most profound influence upon the future of the democratic party as an organization, and upon the welfare of the government itself. There is no doubt that if the doctrines contained in the rules of ex-Speaker Reed, and the force bill and the McKinley bill are permitted to become the settled government of this country, it will scarcely have the form, much less the substance of a constitutional republic.

STABBED THE WRONG MAN

Sensational Affair Reported at Portage.

Ed Worden Locked Up on a Serious Charge.

He Suspected His Wife Was Untrue, Watched the Proceedings and Shoved a Knife into an Innocent Man.

Portage, O., April. 25.—(Special)—"Ed Worden has stabbed James Mears," was the startled expression on every tongue in this place on Saturday evening.

Ed Worden and wife came here less than a year ago, Mr. Worden being assigned as station agent at the T. & C. & C. station.

Of late Mr. Worden became suspicious of his wife, and thought she was not true to her marriage vows.

Mr. Worden tells the story as follows: "I have suspected for some time that something was wrong and from outward appearance I took my judgment. I had suspected a saloon keeper named Stroyer of undue intimacy with my wife. I told the saloon keeper I was going out in the country to be gone two hours, but instead of going I went back to the house and waited.

"In a few minutes he came to the back yard and my wife came out. They held a whispered conversation, the part of which I heard fully convincing me that my suspicions were well founded. After a time my wife went into the house and I ran around the house, hoping to meet the saloon keeper. I saw a man going up the road, ran after him and stabbed him in the back. I then discovered I had stabbed James Mears, instead of the saloon keeper, and after watching the house for some time I gave myself up."

James Mears, the victim, had a very narrow escape. The force of the blow stunned him for a minute and knocked the breath out of him. He walked about two squares before he found out that he had been stabbed.

The knife was very sharp, and the wound, which is a very ugly one, is not necessarily fatal. He is resting easily and will undoubtedly be around again in a few days.

Mrs. Worden says there is not a word of truth in the story, and that Stroyer was not there; also that Mr. Worden was awfully jealous, which caused the whole trouble.

She says that Strover can prove that he was up town when the trouble occurred, and that will clear her.

Public sentiment is divided, some think the story true, while others say that Worden is in the fault.

GO BACK TO THE MINE

Thomas Burt Addresses the Strikers.

Capital Can Wait for Labor Much Better Than Labor Can Wait for Capital.

London, April 25.—Thomas Burt, M. P. for Morpeth, himself a coal miner, and president of the Miners' National association, delivered an address to the miners at Durham yesterday.

He said that he had made a mistake by refusing to arbitrate with the coal owners. It was better to adjust a difficulty amicably than to endeavor to carry a point by going on a strike, which inevitably involved great privation, bitter feeling and damage to the property in the preservation of which both miners and coal owners were interested.

Capital could afford to wait for labor to come to terms, much better than labor could wait for capital. He would not advise that labor should submit to outrages, whatever the sacrifice involved in resistance, but when a settlement by arbitration was possible, such a settlement was to be greatly preferred to going on strike.

Mr. Burt's remarks made a deep impression, as he is very popular with the coal miners, and he has a method of address that appeals strongly to their intelligence. There is already a powerful feeling in favor of resuming work, and the advocates of resumption are confident that the next ballot, to be taken within a few days, will show a largely increased vote, if not a majority, in behalf of resumption.

AID FOR SUFFERING RUSSIA

Iowa Sends Large Contributions Across the Deep.

Thirty-two Thousand Tons of Breadstuffs, Gathered by the Red Cross, Soon to be Shipped.

New York, April 25.—The magnificent offering of the people of the state of Iowa to the starving people of famine-stricken Russia—32,000 tons of breadstuffs, gathered under the direction of the society of the Red Cross, by the women of that great western state—will leave this city within the next two or three days, transported by the steamer Tynehead.

The grain which the vessel will take with her to relieve the sufferings of a starving people, has been accumulating here carload by carload for the past few weeks and is now lying in the Dows and Columbia stores in Brooklyn awaiting the arrival of the vessel. The storage and inspection of this grain has been free of charge and is only a part of the charities extended to the movement from its inception.

THE STORM BIRD CAUGHT

After Many Years the Fowl of Ill-Omen

That Has Predicted Storm and Disaster,

Flies Aboard a Fishing Craft and is Taken Into Port—Nobody Will Accept the Loon.

Chicago, April 25.—(Special)—Capt Ambrose LeFevre, who sails a fishing schooner, captured a lake loon during the gale Saturday night, and when the fact became known in the harbor yesterday there was the greatest curiosity and interest among captains and sailors. Seafaring men are as superstitious concerning a loon as an albatross, and all who saw the seafowl in Capt. LeFevre's possession, cautioned him against killing or imprisoning it, saying that he and his descendants for all time would have bad luck—would meet with some awful fate—and urged him to give it its freedom.

"I have been fishing in this end of Lake Michigan for 30 years," said the captain last evening, "and I never saw but one loon, and I am dead sure that this is the chap. The first time I saw him was about 1865, one stormy afternoon. I tried to run him down with my fishing sloop, and came near drowning my wife and myself. After that I saw the big fellow off and on several times, or heard him screaming in the night. It was always just before a great northerly gale set in.

"As I look back at events now, I remember that whenever I have seen the fowl his presence has been a warning of a great storm from the northward. He never showed himself to signal anything but northerly storms, as I remember now, except once; that was the afternoon of October 9, 1871. He cut up fearfully that day, and did not seem to care how many people saw or heard him. He would fly wildly about and then swoop down on the lake, which was at that time as smooth as glass, and run and fly, screaming all the while.

"I believe he swims with his wings as well as his web feet, for his wings touch the water and he goes along like lightning. The storm we had that night, you remember, was a snorter from the southwest, and the whole town burned up. I made up my mind after the great fire that the bird was a sort of ill-omened devil and concluded to kill it. Mind you, I have never seen but one at a time, and I concluded, and am more sure than ever now, that it was the same loon.

"I got to carrying a gun on my boat and very time I saw the chap for four or five years I discharged both barrels at him. He would disappear under the water and I thought I had killed him each time, but he would show himself again just before a norther was coming.

"In 1880 or 1881 one Sunday afternoon some young fellows in a little steam launch took up the chase with me after the loon. We pressed him hard, and I got a shot at him, breaking one of his wings as I then thought. I got him aboard my schooner—the boat I am sailing now—and was examining his right wing when he banged me in the face with both wings, toggled over into the water and sank out of sight.

"I am convinced that this is the same loon because here is his right wing all bare of feathers or fur—that's where I shot him.

"Just before the sudden norther set in yesterday, that fowl flew right aboard my boat and let me catch him without making the least effort." The captain said he did not feel quite right with the loon on his hands, and he had given it to friend, Mr. D. C. Deegan, of 519 South Canal street, who promised to call for it, but had not done so. He kind of suspected that Deegan was afraid of the fowl with a human voice—for that it had—and he did not know but he would take it out on the lake next trip and let it go.

James Coughlin, a grain inspector, had offered to buy it, but the captain did not like the idea of barter and sale, and imprisonment for exhibition; for the same reason he did not want to turn it over to the World's fair people.

Last Thanksgiving day a party of seven men in a sail yacht gave chase in the basin after a loon, which was watched for two hours by crowds of people on the lake front and Michigan avenue. The loon pursued its usual tactics when chased. It swam and flew around in a circle, gradually making the circle smaller and making the chase more difficult for the yacht. Suddenly the yacht was put about thus coming head-on toward the loon.

At this instant a violent squall struck the little craft and capsized her. Two of the men, father and son, lost their lives. The others clung to the overturned yacht, and were rescued by Captain Ed. Napier and his tug, which put out from Van Buren street.

Capt. John Hea, of the Chicago Towing company, had an experience with a lake loon several years ago. His tug was lying outside the harbor late one afternoon waiting for a tow to come along. Just at nightfall the crew caught sight of the loon, and resolved upon a chase. Around and around went the loon, swimming and flying, always making the circle smaller. They tired him out and Capt. Hea had a pike pole ready to strike, but something occurred to change the mind of the whole crew in an instant.

"Suddenly raising itself in the water," says Capt. Hea, "and stretching out its long neck, that bird gave out a cry of distress and anguish that seemed human, and at times supernatural, ascending to the very clouds. A squall swooped down on the lake from the north just at this juncture, and our tug being five miles down the lake, we made a run for the harbor. We made bad weather of it, the tug shipping several seas, but we finally got into port safely. Just as we rounded the piers that loon circled around the pilot house with a solemn croak, and then winged its way back to sea again."

Lieut. Baker, in charge of the marine exhibit for the world's fair, will endeavor to secure the "storm bird."

HUNTING THE BUNCO MAN

Believed that He Has Gone to Chicago.

Western Police on a Skirmish to Find the Man Much Wanted in the East.

Chicago, April 25.—On the information of a saloonkeeper, who declares that he saw the man in South Chicago, Central station officers were detailed to search that part of the city yesterday for "Bunco" O'Brien, who escaped from his guards on the way to Sing Sing last Thursday.

The information was of a positive nature, and additional weight was lent by the fact that South Chicago contains numerous friends of the "king of bunco men." A thorough search in all his accustomed haunts failed to find any trace of O'Brien, and it is believed that if he is in Chicago he is keeping in close hiding and will find it convenient to take an early opportunity to move his quarters to another city.

The numerous occasions on which he has been arrested in this city have given many of the officers a thorough acquaintance with his personal appearance, and it appears likely that he will find Chicago too warm for comfort.

SHERMAN FORAKER

The Rival Clans Meet in Battle Array.

The Forakerites Carry the War Into Egypt,

But Are Beaten and Badly Demoralized.

Monkey and Parrot Time at Republican Convention.

Postmaster Brown Wallops Steve Bolles and the Second Ward Gang, While Tom Tracy Larrups The Postmaster et al.

There was a monkey and parrot time at the republican convention Saturday afternoon.

The skirmish the preceding night had simply whetted the appetites, so to speak, of the factionists, and the lull that ushered in the convention was simply the calm before the storm.

A cloud no larger than a man's hand appeared on the horizon when the committee on credentials gave the contesting faction from the Second 10 out of 13 votes.

The clouds grew denser and darker and were only broken by Bolles' chain lightning flashes of indignant protest.

The storm burst in all its fury when the committee appointed to select delegates to the state convention announced the name of Col. Joseph C. Bonner. The gallant colonel had led the contesting colors of the Second, and it was a direct slap in the face for the Bolles-Moxie combination.

The administration was in the saddle and had things all its own way, but for the sake of harmony Griffin was allowed to go to the state convention.

This was concession that the Sherman people thought the friends of Foraker should have been devoutly thankful for. What then was the consternation of Sherman's followers when the motion to drop Col. Bonner from the list of delegates was made.

Talk of democratic caucuses 10 or 12 years ago. Talk of vituperation and rowdyism, why the caucus of Saturday knocked out anything in the way of a public meeting that has ever been seen in this city or section.

The minute the list of delegates was read by Secretary Gasaway, Bolles was on his feet, and in the name of the Second moved that the name of Jacob Kurtz be substituted for J. C. Bonner.

Then the fun began. Mingled cheers, hisses, and cat calls greeted the proposition.

The administration forces were for the moment paralyzed, but Col. Waldorf was equal to the emergency. He moved that the motion be laid upon the table. The point was made that the motion would carry the report with it, and so it was withdrawn.

The excitement was intense. Several jumped to their feet, and Mr. T. H. Tracy was recognized by the chair.

"The only offense," Mr. Tracy began, "that Mr. Kurtz has committed is that he is a friend of Foraker (hisses and cheers). Then he proceeded to score the administration. The federal building gang had not only packed the caucuses, but it had come there with the deliberate purpose of ruling or ruining the work of the convention.

"Every federal official, from the postmaster to janitor," he said excitedly, "sits in this convention as delegates. The old time republicans of the Eighth had been barred out for men who were practically unknown in local politics six months ago."

He believed that Lucas county was for Foraker three to one, and it was about time the federal bulldozers came to understand it. He had a resolution which he would present at the proper time, but which he would read now as part of his speech. He then read the following pointed epistle:

Resolved, That in order to allow all federal officials and employers to attend conventions, it is the sense of this convention that in the future on convention days the postoffice and government offices should be closed from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., and that the civil service law on such days be suspended in the city of Toledo.

The reading of the resolution was received with shouts of laughter, cheers and general howling.

Walter Brown took up the gauntlet for the administration. The row, he said, was created by the Second warders, who in the last elections allowed the democrats to capture it. Tracy, he said, talked of newcomers. What was the Second ward kicker (Bolles) but a new-comer? What right had that man to dictate to the Second ward or to the convention who should or should not go to the state convention?

The speaker was interrupted with decisive cheers and laughter.

L. K. Parks agreed with Mr. Brown that it was exceedingly unfortunate that the Second ward row should be injected into the proceedings of the convention. It was to be deplored, but who was to blame for it? It was the federal officeholders who had packed as far as possible every ward caucus last night. (Cheers and uproar). The object of the Sherman people was to humiliate ex-Governor Foraker. They were not content to defeat, No, they proposed persecuting him to the death.

Mr. Parks grew excited as he proceeded, and he kept the convention at a red-hot temperature all through his long speech. It was a crime, he said, to be a friend of Foraker's in the opinion of John Sherman's henchmen. Well, there were a good many guilty in that convention.

A dozen were on their feet and the cheering continued.

Frank Rickenbaugh undertook to defend the administration, but his defense wasn't a glaring success.

"Supposing the federal officials did pack the caucus, what of it?" he said.

This declaration was received with a howl that shook the building.

"Supposing, for the sake of argument, I say," he continued, "that the caucuses were packed, what of it?"

"What are you going to do about it?" laughed a delegate.

"Have not the government officials the rights of citizens to go to caucuses and vote as they see fit?"

W. I. Squire was next recognized. He threw kerosene on the flames by attempting to defend Griffin's action in ousting McKinley from the chairmanship of the state convention. Gov. McKinley had told, he said, only a few days ago, that he didn't want the chairmanship, just as if Mr. McKinley, even if he did want it, would say anything else after getting left.

J. H. Southard asked permission to say a word, but he was not a delegate and so was howled down.

John E. Parsons called for the ayes and nays on the adoption of the resolution, but in the tumult his words did not reach the chair.

Postmaster J. M. Brown, who had been standing on a chair for some time trying to catch the chairman's eye, now got the floor. He scored the opposition unmercifully, and was proceeding to wipe up the floor with his opponents when he was called down by Judge Millard.

"What right have you to speak here?" said the judge, "you are not a delegate."

"I have as much right as you, sir," was the response fired with indignant force at the judge.

"You are not a delegate."

Mr. Brown looked as if he was going to say something harsh.

"I am a delegate and you know it."

"I didn't hear the secretary read your name," said Mr. Tracy.

"I don't care. I am a delegate, and I am going to speak."

The uproar during this discussion was indescribable.

Doc Smith, a Second ward delegate, finally settled it by announcing officially that Mr. Brown was a delegate.

Mr. Brown proceeded amid hooting, hissing and cheering. "Your work here to-day," he said, turning to his opponents, "is an outrage. For 12 years I have been your leader and have led you time and time again to victory."

At this statement the house rose on its hind end, as it were, and hooted itself hoarse.

"Aye, you may laugh," he continued, "but it is true, just the same."

He proceeded to point out the duty of republicans, and finally got to the personal charges that had been made against him. The council would be republican today if it were "not for that man there," pointing to Bolles. "It was through his instrumentality that 75 republican officeholders were turned out of office a week ago. It was through him (Bolles) and his packed caucus that Leopold Schaffer was put up to be sacrificed. After nominating him he went to work and basely blasted the man's reputation in the paper with which he is connected.

"I never saw so unblushing a fraud as that perpetrated by Bolles. Think of a man nominating himself for chairman of a caucus and declaring himself elected in face of the fact that a division of the house showed two-thirds of it against him. He was a witness to it, and he asked the loyal republicans present how long they were going to allow this state of affairs to last. The speaker paid a tribute to J. C. Bonner and gave Jake Kurtz a slap that evoked a storm of hisses, mingled with cheers. He intimated that the vote on the resolution would show whether the republicans present were prepared to continue the fight or to drop it.

Mr. Brown then turned his attention to the charge that he was neglecting his business as a government official in order to attend the convention. "The charge," he said, "is a blemish and a falsehood, and the gentleman who uttered it knew it was an unmitigated lie."

As a citizen he had rights, and he purposed exercising these rights whether against a gas trustee or a man who would politically assassinate Gov. McKinley.

It may not be necessary to say that the above language did not allay the excitement.

Mr. Brown concluded a red-hot address by saying that when the time came when he couldn't exercise the rights of a citizen then he would give up his office.

T. H. Tracy again tried to get the floor, but Bolles was first recognized.

Chairman Beckham said it was time to draw a halt on personalities.

Mr. Bolles said he didn't intend replying to so small a man as Jim Brown. A mosquito may bother you for a moment, but you brush it aside and it is gone. He said he was as good a republican as Jim Brown and proceeded to explain why the Second ward was lost to the republicans.

Mr. Tracy said one good thing had resulted from the discussion. "What if we don't send a full Sherman delegation to the state convention," he said. "What if we don't send a delegation at all, has not the discussion demonstrated who is the leader of the republican party in Lucas county. Mr. J. M. Brown is. He has said so himself. Brown talks about fair play and that stuff. Why, just after the state senatorial convention Brown pulled a pledge made beforehand out of his pocket.

At this point Representative Flickinger created great amusement by jumping to his feet and calling loudly to the chairman.

When he secured the chairman's eye he said solemnly and slowly:

"I defy any living man to say he ever pulled a pledge of mine out of his pocket.

"I didn't know you were a candidate before the state senatorial convention," put in Mr. Tracy.

The white-haired orator saw his blunder and sat down amid a roar of laughter.

T. P. Brown said he as one of the committee on resolutions had tried to bury the hatchet by taffying both Sherman and Foraker, but it didn't seem to work. He recommended that Mr. Bonner be left at home.

Henry Vortriede here moved that the resolutions be laid on the table, but the motion was not entertained, as it would take the whole report with it.

Reynold Voit moved that a vote by wards to be taken on the resolutions.

A scene of indescribable uproar followed, and after a long and heated wrangle in which nearly everybody on the floor participated, it was decided to take the vote by wards—each ward voting by ballot, its chairman announcing the result.

Inasmuch as it was a clear-cut out and out Sherman-Foraker contest, the vote herewith given may be found useful for future references.

Ayes—First ward 16, Second 6 1-2, Third 7 1-2, Fourth 14, Fifth 10, Sixth 6, Seventh 15, Eighth 12, Ninth 4, Adams 4, Oregon 7, Spencer 2, Swanton 2, Washington 11, Sylvania 5. Total, 125.

Against substitution—First ward 14, Second 10 1-2, Third 19 1-2, Fourth 0, Fifth 6, Sixth 19, Seventh 23, Eighth 20, Ninth 17, Washington 1, Waynesfield 4. Total, 131.

The resolution was lost by six votes, and Mr. Bonner was declared the delegate amid great cheering.

Mr. H. A. Wales, of Bridgeport, Conn., of whom our readers have so often read, in connection with his invention called Sound Discs, will be at the Burnett Wednesday of this week. The restoration of such a large number of desperate and abandoned cases of deafness, by his invention, has excited the interest of the medical world, and his visit to Toledo will afford those of our readers who are suffering from defective hearing a rare opportunity.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lie in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

THE SILVER MEN TO MEET

Call for a Convention on May 26.

A. J. Warner, Chairman, Signs the Call and Argues the Cause of His Followers.

Washington, April 25.—The following call has been issued by the national silver committee:

The national silver committee, appointed by the first national silver convention held at St. Louis, November, 1889, believing that the exigency has arisen which calls for earnest deliberation and united action on the part of the friends of bi-metallism throughout the United States, hereby calls a convention to be known as the second national silver convention, to be held at Washington, May 26 and 27, 1892, one of the objects being to organize a national bimetallic association or league for the better promotion of the cause of free bimetallic coinage in the United States.

This action is impelled by the manifest determination on the part of the gold combination to suppress the silver issue for at least another decade, and, if possible, by transmuting existing debts into gold obligation, and otherwise to fasten forever the single gold standard upon the people of the United States, and thus perpetuate the subtle system of robbery that has been carried on for the past 20 years, by means of a money standard that is constantly increasing in value.

His understanding must be defective who does not know that the demonetization of silver increased the money standard of the United States and of the world, and his conscience must be seared who would attempt to justify it.

But this increase still goes on, and will go on, as gold grows scarce and dear, until the bimetallic standard, established 100 years ago by Washington, Hamilton and Jefferson, is restored and gold relieved of the strain of being the only money of final redemption for other forms of money and of credit.

As the money standard is raised prices fall and debts are increased. The one is the counterpart of the other, and the whole is the work of legislation.

The wit of man would not devise a scheme better calculated to enrich one class at the expense of another, than by the device of an increasing money standard, and under the operation of this device since 1873, hundreds of millions of dollars annually of the wealth created by one class have been appropriated by another.

For 20 years this has been going on and yet congress pledged to the people to remedy the wrong, hesitates and pauses as if hypnotized by the wand of gold.

The people want no "70-cent dollars," neither will they forever tolerate, under the hypocritical pretence of "honest money" a dollar that has grown to be a 150-cent dollar and is still growing at an augmented rate.

There may be those who are tired of the silver question, but the consequence of gold monometallism are too threatening to permit the cause of silver to be smothered, and to abandon it is to give over to ultimate slavery the toilers of the land.

No, the silver question will not down. It is an issue paramount to all others. Although it is necessarily a political question in the sense that the remedy must be by political action, the question of free bimetallic coinage is not a partisan question, and the convention is not called for any partisan purpose, but to urge on all parties the justice and the necessity of action on a question so vital to the public welfare.

The gold monometallists are united, active and watchful, as recent events have shown.

They have unlimited means at their command; they control the metropolitan press, they intimidate political leaders, dominate conventions and dictate platforms and candidates. But the people will not be enslaved, nor will they submit forever to the robbery of an increasing gold standard.

The silver committe, in this crisis, calls upon the people everywhere to come forward and send delegates to this convention.

The call is extended to all who earnestly favor the immediate restoration of free bimetallic coinage in the United States, and each congressional district is requested to send two delegates, and each state and territory to send two additional delegates-at-large.

Farmers' Alliance organizations, state granges, patrons of husbandry, Knights of Labor and all other industrial organizations favorable to the free coinage of silver are also invited to send one delegate for each local organization.

A cordial invitation is also extended to all citizens who, by pen or otherwise, have been advocates of bimetallism. Members of congress and of the legislatures of the several states who favor the restoration of the bimetallic standard and the coinage of silver on the same terms as gold, are especially invited to attend and participate in the proceedings of the convention.

By order of the national silver committee.

A. J. WARNER, Chairman.

LEE CRANDAL, Secretary.

ARE TO MEET IN COUNCIL

Farmers' Alliance Politicians to Come Together.

Call for the Leaders to Journey to Birmingham and Invoice the Prospects.

Washington, April 25.—The following circular letter has been issued in this city:

Dear Sir and Brother: This letter is addressed to you in fraternity and brotherly love, hoping that it may be the means of promoting the welfare and cause we mutually strive to promote—the farmers' alliance.

This is the most critical period in the history of the order. Never has there been such a universal and such a loud cry from the order to the officers for directions how to conduct the local fight. Never has there been as little concert of action among the officers of the different states and sections. This, if allowed to continue, must be fatal. Concert of action is imperative, and success cannot be achieved without it. The political contest threatens the destruction of the order.

A lack of cohesive and uniform action by the order threatens the political slaughter of its friends. The emergency is great, and the necessity for full reconciliation by all executive officers is greater than at any time in the history of the movement. The nation is so large that the expense attending national councils of this character is too great to be borne with convenience; it has therefore been decided by the national president and national executive board of the presidents, and executive committees of the states having like difficulties, to meet and be called together in council. This conclusion has been reached after a very careful study of the situation, and we are very forcibly impressed with the necessity of your attendance at this meeting, which, after full consultation, we have decided to call to meet at Birmingham, Ala., on Tuesday, the 3d day of May, 1892.

The presidents and members of executive committees of the following state alliances have been invited to attend: Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Oklahoma and Tennessee. The importance of this meeting and of having every one of these states fully represented is without a parallel, and your state will be asked to reimburse you for the traveling expenses you may incur, and, should it fail to do so, we will call upon the brotherhood to contribute for that purpose, which will be readily done when the benefit can be shown. Let no ordinary cause prevent your coming, but should you find it utterly impossible for you to come, have your committee select a proxy to represent you.

It is understood that this meeting will be strictly secret, with none present but those invited or their accredited proxies; that it is called by C. W. Macune, as chairman of the national executive board, acting under the advice and approval of the president and executive board, and that no one is to be apprised of the meeting before it convenes. You are at once requested to notify Brother Macune, 241 North Capitol street, if you will be present, or who will be your proxy. Lastly, we, in conclusion, appeal by all that you love in this cause to be present.

C. W. MACUNE, Chairman,
J. F. TILLMAN, Secretary,
ALONZO WARDWELL,
Executive Committee.

Washington, April 25.—The bureau of American republics is informed that a new use has been found for bananas, which will greatly add to the value of that fruit. HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

"Gentlemen: Fifteen years ago I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which was followed by eczema or salt rheum, breaking out on my right leg. The humor spread all over my legs, back and arms,

A Foul Mass of Sores,

swollen and itching terribly, causing intense pain if the skin was broken by scratching, and discharging constantly. It is impossible to describe my suffering in those years of agony and torture. I spent in futile efforts to get well, and was discouraged and ready to die. At this time I was unable to lie down in bed, had to sit up all the time, and was unable to walk without crutches. I had to hold my arms away from my body, and had to have my arms, back and legs bandaged by my faithful wife twice a day.

"Finally a friend who was visiting at our house, urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began by taking half a teaspoonful. My

Stomach Was All Out of Order

But the medicine soon corrected this, and in six weeks I could see a change in the condition of the humor which nearly covered my body. It was driven to the surface by the Sarsaparilla, the sores soon healed, and the scales fell off. I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man I was. I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven months; and since that time, nearly two years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well.

ORIGIN OF CIVILIZATION,

As Presented by Mr. Mackinder Saturday Night.

The well-pleased audience which listened to the lecture of Mr. Mackinder at Memorial hall Saturday night was not what was merited in point of numbers. His sketch of University Extension work in England, where the idea had birth, was instructive to many, who had no clear idea of its extent or significance.

THE SLATE WAS BROKEN

And Jim Luckey Will Not Jump Ben Harrison

At the Minneapolis Convention as at Chicago.

William H. Tucker, of Lucas, and John B. Wilson, of Wood, Elected Delegates—Ottawa County Representatives Become Very Ill-Natured Before the Convention Adjourns.

"I have orders not to open the doors until the rent is paid."

The republican district convention called for G. A. R. hall to-day to choose delegates to the Minneapolis convention was a cold-blooded affair.

The convention was called for 10 o'clock but the above was the answer that the early stranger received when application was made to the janitor for admittance.

It was close to 11 o'clock when T. P. Brown put in an appearance. He had a talk with the janitor, and after guaranteeing the hall rent Mr. Brown announced that the hall was open.

In the meantime the delegates were standing around shivering in the cold.

Messrs. Griffin and Flickinger were early on deck, and the former did considerable button-holing.

It is understood in the convention this morning that the former has practically given up the race for congress. Ex-Mayor Hamilton is in it for all it is worth and will fight Ashley for the nomination.

This was the talk among the delegates prior to calling the convention to order.

J. P. Wilson, of Bowling Green, was in the field as the administration candidate with Jim Luckey as the representative of the Foraker element.

W. H. Tucker seemed to have but little opposition from the Lucas county delegates, though he was hustling around bright and early button-holing all comers.

Just before the convention was called to order an opposition to Tucker sprung up in his own delegation, but just what it amounted to was not apparent. The Foraker faction tried hard to make a combination with the outside delegates for Luckey and Wilson.

It was 11:30 when W. H. Tucker called the convention to order.

W. I Squire asked the delegates in behalf of the hall trustees not to spit tobacco juice on the floor.

Mr. Tucker said the injunction was hardly necessary as the delegates were all supposed to be gentlemen.

Henry C. Vortriede was elected chairman. Frank Rickenbaugh was named for secretary, but declined, and Dr. Geo. B. Spencer, of Wood, was elected.

Mayor Emmick then announced railroad rates to the Cleveland convention over the Wheeling & Lake Erie.

Chairman Vortriede said the object of the meeting was to elect two delegates and two alternates to the national convention and one presidential elector.

On motion of Judge Cummings, committees on credentials, rules and organization and resolutions, to comprise one from each county, were appointed as follows:

Credentials—Lucas, H. S. Bunker; Fulton, T. F. Ham; Wood, Dr. W. T. Thomas; Ottawa, Wm. Miller.

Rules and organization—Lucas, Jacob Romeis; Fulton, E. L. Sargent; Wood, E. S. Bryant; Ottawa, H. V. Becker.

Resolutions—Lucas, Herman Baumbach; Fulton, Wm. Geyser; Wood, Frank Thompson; Ottawa, Wm. Kelly.

A motion to adjourn to 2 o'clock was changed to 1:30.

Col. Bunker opposed adjourning Judge Cummings supported the motion and it was lost, and the committee adjourned to the ante-room.

During the absence of the committees the Lucas county contingent held a red-hot session. The object was to select an opposition delegate.

Judge Cummings protested against unfair caucusing in the absence of some of the delegates who were on the committees.

The caucus broke up without accomplishing anything.

The committee on credentials appeared and reported no contests and the report was adopted.

The following are the delegates to the convention:

Lucas county—W. M. Giles, P. Hassenzahl, G. A. Chase, Fred Praitz, F. W. Rickenbaugh, W. A. Mills, H. S. Bunker, G. H. Cole, H. C. Vortriede, D. W. Stroud, John Fielbach, Joseph Henning, C W. Hickok, J. H. Southard, W. H. Tucker, S. Brown, A. E. Forster, A. R. Rodgers, C. A. Flickinger, Isaac D. Smead, J. W. Cummings, Jacob Remeis, C. C. Hirssig, A. L. Johnson, F. L. Baird, H. R. Bacon, C. S. Jones, C. Schultz, M. S. Wright, William Egelton, Herman Baumbach, A. B. Mason, H. S. McLeary, Tim Adams, S. W. Cass, James Shoemaker, O. J. Graham, J. B. Griffin and J. W. Kerr.

Wood county—E. S. Bryant, E. W. Merry, Gus Keil, J. C. Bucklin, Samuel Knight, W. T. Thomas, A. L. Pettys, T. G. Collins, G. C. Munn, Jacob Wiarman, W. O. Keeler, F. H. Thompson, J. B. Wilson, J. C. Solether, Isaac Rideout, James Gibson, E. B. Beverstock, John Muir, G. B. Spencer.

Fulton county—Col. D. W. H. Howard, A. L. Sargent, F. T. Blair, Dr. E. H. Rorick, ex-Senator Wm. Geyser, T. F. Ham, Calvin Williams, A. M. Lee, W. A. Sanders, W. J. Irwin, W. J. Lutz.

Ottawa county—H. V. Becker, Wm. Miller, D. L. Mizner, E. J. Thierwechter, Edward Fields and Dr. Waters.

The committee on rules and permanent organization recommended that the temporary organization be made permanent, and that the rules governing legislative bodies govern the convention.

How William Geyser, from the committee on resolutions read the usual stereotyped set of resolutions. Harrison and McKinley were endorsed and the delegates to the national convention were instructed to cast their votes for Grandfather's hat

The report was, of course, unanimously adopted.

Judge Cunnings threw a bomb shell when he introduced a resolution to the effect that the two delegates and elector be given to the outside counties. He said there was a good deal of feeling owing to Lucas county claiming everything and unless harmonized it would endanger the election of a congressman.

J. H. Southard began speaking, but was called down by Herman Baumbach on a point of order, which was not sustained.

Mr. Southard, continuing, said Lucas had one more than one-half in that convention, and it was not fair to give everything to the minority. Lucas may have a candidate for congress, that is her privilege. May not the other counties have each its own candidate? He thought Lucas county should have at least one-third. Judge Cummings had been instructed to support Lucas county's candidate, but here he was prepared to sacrifice everything.

Mr. Romeis supported the motion. He said he knew from experience that Lucas county alone won't elect a congressman. He favored giving each county one of the offices.

Col. Bunker said it was strange that a resolution of that nature should come from Lucas county. Heretofore Lucas did not ask and did not get everything. There was no assurance that the other counties would not have candidates for congress. It was a one-sided resolution and he was opposed to it.

Col. Howard, of Fulton, supported the motion and said it was good politics.

Herman Baumbach said Lucas county was pledged to W. H. Tucker. He didn't see the purpose of the resolution.

Judge Cummings in reply said he was glad Mr. Southard had the chance to speak. He tried it last Saturday, but was not allowed. He denied that Lucas county was pledged to W. H. Tucker. This statement was greeted with hisses and howls.

Mr. Cummings said the resolution indorsing Tucker had been slipped through the convention at a time when not 30 delegates heard it, and did not know what it meant.

Col. Isaac D. Smead said outside of Lucas throughout the district it was the general report that Lucas wanted everything. He found it cut and dried on his return home that Mr. Tucker was to be the delegate.

Herman Baumbach moved that the resolution be laid on the table. The chairman declared the motion carried. Judge Cummings called for the ayes and nays.

The chairman decided the ayes and noes could not be called.

A rising vote showed that the motion to lay on the table carried, and so it was announced.

The regular business was then proceeded with.

Nominations for delegates were next in order.

Lucas county, through Col. Bunker, presented the name of W. H. Tucker.

Wood county presented the name of John B. Wilson.

Frank Rickenbaugh moved that as there were but two nominations, that the rules be suspended and that W. H. Tucker and J. B. Wilson be elected by acclamation. Carried.

Mr. Wilson thanked the convention for the honor, and Mr. Tucker too, made his little speech of thanks.

D. W. H. Howard of Fulton, was presented as alternate, but declined.

Dr. Geyser named E. L. Sargent, of Fulton.

Ottawa sulked and refused to name a candidate.

Wood county presented the name of M. P. Brower.

Frank Rickenbaugh presented the name of Mr. Frees, of Ottawa.

Ottawa said she had no candidate. When she had she would speak.

Mr. Frees said he was not a candidate and would not have it.

Capt. Jim Luckey said if the convention desired to confer an honor, Ottawa ought to be consulted.

Rickenbaugh insisted on putting Frees in nomination.

Capt. Luckey said Ottawa did not want the convention to ram anything down their throats.

Ottawa was hot and said so most emphatically.

Ex-Senator Geyser was also hot. Fulton, he said, presented a candidate. If he was not acceptable they were prepared to take their medicine.

Col. Smead again warned the convention against antagonizing the outside counties.

Jim Southard tried to throw oil on the troubled waters. Lucas asked but one delegate and was willing to give the outside counties one delegate and both alternates.

The name of Frees was withdrawn.

Dr. Spencer, of Wood, was nominated.

Mr. Brewer declined, and Messrs. Spencer and Sargent were elected by acclamation.

Ottawa presented the name of William Miller for elector.

Fulton presented Mr. W. W. Touvelle, of Wauseon.

Lucas county went into a fight.

Touvelle's name was finally withdrawn and Miller was elected.

Notes.

The postoffice was dead against Luckey.

Chairman Vordtriede made an excellent presiding officer.

Herman Baumbach was on deck, and so was Moses Math.

Judge Austin, Fred Kumler and other lights fluttered in the outskirts and did considerable hustling.

W. I. Squire came in, picked an easy swinging chair occupied by a reporter, and appropriated it himself.

The postoffice people say the reason they allowed Griffin to go on the state delegation was that he begged so hard to go that they could not refuse him.

Ottawa and Fulton counties were not in it to-day at the republican convention. Ottawa had Jim Luckey for delegate, but a combination was formed early between Wood and Lucas, and Fulton and Ottawa were counted out.

Mr. Cleveland seems to be marching at the head of the procession. All one way at present.

The democratic state committee will meet in Columbus on Tuesday to fix the time and place for holding the state convention.

Mr. Griffin's speech on opening the republican state convention in Cleveland will be hilariously conservative and provokingly peaceful.

The Hon. C. A. Flickinger seemed to have a stronger pull in the republican convention last Saturday than the Hon. C. P. Griffin. As for the Hon. O. P. Heller, he just went along with the rest, as usual.

The Chicago Herald is so unalterably opposed to Grover Cleveland and so thoroughly favorable to Gen. Palmer that it thinks of no other presidential possibilities on the democratic side. Open up, neighbor, and be more generously democratic.

The French government commissioned one M. Deschanet to go over this country and investigate the condition of the working people. He reports that he finds them, as a rule, better conditioned than in France, and republican papers are shouting, "another triumph for protection." As France is a republic with its tariff laws fashioned after our own, one fails to see the point of proof. What is proven is what M. Deschanet remarks in the same report—that their superior condition "is not contingent at all upon legislation."

The republicans of Toledo are unanimous in one thing: they agree to disagree and fight like Kilkenny cats. The convention last Saturday was a volcano with the crater wide open. The accusation of Postmaster Brown that a representative of a Toledo republican newspaper, acting as committeeman, brought out a candidate in the Second ward, and then defeated him after nomination, was a revelation of the fine art of political knifing. And the retort that Brown, who has been the party leader for many years, is a mosquito was exasperatingly penetrating. The resolution of Tom Tracy favoring the suspension of civil service rules on convention days to allow Brown, Austin, Waldorf, and all government employes to boss the show, was the sarcasm of hate that is characteristic of the Forsker element. The fight against Hon. C. P. Griffin, and his selection as a delegate to the state convention only after a begging fight is evidence of the trouble that is developed into open revolt. The personalities of the day, from beginning to close of the convention, is a foretaste of the fun which this campaign will produce. The row indicates that if the democrats mind their p's and q's they will elect a congressman this year.

A NEW ALLIANCE MOVE.

A very significant action, in connection with politics this year, is the call just made public for a meeting of representatives of the farmers' alliances in certain states. The call is signed by C. W. Macune, chairman of the executive board of the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, and is countersigned by Col. Polk, president of this alliance. The persons called together are the presidents and executive committees of the state alliances of sixteen southern states. The call for a meeting was to be kept "strictly secret," but has failed in this. The proceedings are to be kept secret, and no one but these entitled representatives, or their proxies, will be admitted. It will be held in Birmingham, Ala., on May 3, and the call repeatedly urges, entreats, full attendance.

As these alliances were fully represented in the industrial conference held in St. Louis on February 22-23, and as they are entitled to full representation in the national convention called to make a political platform and nominate a national ticket at Omaha on July 4, there is great significance in this sudden and secret midconvention. Mr. Macune's circular confesses that this is "a most critical period in the history of the order," and that dissensions are existing which will be fatal to it unless overcome. Moreover, although the organization of which Col. Polk is head extends over all the western and northwestern states, and has large membership west of the Rocky mountains, none of these states are called to the Birmingham meeting.

It is impossible to draw any inference but this, that the southern alliances do not accept the action of their representatives at St. Louis as binding; that a sufficient number oppose independent political action, as there agreed upon, to destroy the organization if it is committed to this course. This was what the convention at St. Louis was warned would result, but the warnings were there derided. It looks now as though the third-party men had over-estimated their strength and following, and it will not be surprising if the action taken at St. Louis is repudiated at Birmingham. Should this be done, "the people's party" will be a small factor in this year's politics, for without the southern alliance there is nothing in it.

INTO A TRUST.

Philadelphia, April 25.—It is rumored that the five leading manufacturers of locomotive tires of the country, the Nashua Iron company, the Standard Iron and Steel company, of Lewiston, Pa., the Latrobe Steel company, of Latrobe, Pa., the Midvale Steel company, of this city, and the Chicago Tire and Spring works, of Chicago, have formed a combination and will soon be merged into a trust concern.

THE FIGHT ON TRUSTS.

New York, April 25.—A Philadelphia special to the Herald says that Special Agent Horton, of the department of justice, has been in that city during the past week hunting up evidence against trusts. It is understood that his mission has special reference to the sugar trust and national cordage trust. From Philadelphia Horton will go to New York.

PANIC IN A CHURCH.

Ft. Wayne, April 25.—The decorations on the altar in St. Mary's church caught fire Sunday and caused a panic among the worshipers. A number of persons were bruised but none dangerously injured.

LAID DOWN THEIR SHOVELS

Two Hundred and Sixty Men on a Strike.

They Want the Coal Wet, but Shippers Will Not Allow the Company to Handle It That Way.

The temporary trouble on the Hocking Valley docks last week was laid to rest by the rain-storm which wet down the coal for shovelers. This morning the sun shone, the wind blew and the coal dust flew, and the 260 shovelers employed on the dock laid down their shovels and demanded that the coal be wet down, refusing to handle it till this was done.

A Bee had a talk this morning with Supt. G. M. Carlton, who spoke of the trouble as follows: "I am sorry for the men, and I hate to see them quit work, because they will make nothing by it. The company cannot wet down the coal for them. Shippers will not allow it, and claim serious losses on last season's coal because it was done. They have stated positively that they will not ship coal over the Hocking Valley to this point if the company allows the coal to be wet.

"There is no point on the lakes where they do wet the coal. They did at Sandusky at one time, but do not now. At Cleveland, at Ashtabula, in fact at every port the coal is handled dry, and it will have to be handled that way here after this. The men expect the company to relent, but the fact is the company has no option. It is the shippers who make the rule, and the company and the men will have to abide by it."

"What are you going to do for men?"

"Well, I had an offer of 500 men from Chicago this morning. The company must decide whether to accept the offer. Of course they would prefer to have Toledo men do the work. I can't say what will be don. I expect to be notified to-day."

A talk with some of the men shows that they have no concerted plans made. They are not organized, though they talk to-day of forming a union. The fact is, the ore and coal handlers have been organized in Toledo two or three time, but only hold together till they settle some point in hand.

Supt. Carlton said, and to this the men assented, that the wages paid are satisfactory. An advance was made last season, and the same rate is paid this spring, 11 cents a ton for handling.

THE TUG COMBINE

Is a Go, the Arrangement Taking Effect To-day.

Cutting of Rates Will Stop—How the Deal Was Brought About and the Tugs in Line.

The combination of all the tugs in the Toledo harbor, which was mentioned in the Bee some time ago as probable, is now a reality, and the combination goes into effect to-day.

This will be a good thing for the tug owners, and under this new state of affairs it is likely that they can make some money besides the glory, which was about all they received last season, when the tugs were running all over the lake in search of a tow and often burning tons of coal to no better purpose than to smoke up the lake.

As is well known the revalry was very great last season between the White Star tugs and those of the tug association, under the management of Sullivan & Hubbard. Now they have come together in peace, and the whole fleet, which is one of the best on the chain of lakes, will run under the management of Sullivan & Hubbard.

The combination was brought about by L. S. Sullivan selling to S. C. Schenck, one-half of the tug Brckhead and three-fourths of the tug Doan, while S. C. Schenck sold to L. S. Sullivan one-fourth of the big tug Schenck.

The new association goes into effect to-day and the fleet under the management of Sullivan & Hubbard will comprise 11 tugs, as follows: S. C. Schenck, Roy, L. Birckhead, A. Andrews, jr., F. S. Butler, Uncle Sam, Joseph S. Spinney, Mary A. Green, W. H. Doan, Wm. E. Rooney and Syracuse.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

Providence, R. I., April 25.—George V. Seward, aged 18 years, J. M. Traut and Dr. J. M. Hain have been arrested charged with the theft of $24,000 in stocks and bonds from George M. Babbitt, an old recluse, living in Mansfield, Mass.

The money and valuables had been concealed in barrels, trunks and tomato cans about the house. Young Seward is a grandson of Babbitt.

OPPOSED TO SUNDAY TRAINS.

Pittsburg, April 25.—Robert Pitcairn, of the Pittsburg division of the Pennsylvania railroad, in an address before the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday, said he favored the abolition of Sunday trains wherever possible, and promised to use his influence in this direction.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Mr. McKinley's little boom is growing. If the republican idea is the high tariff idea, Mr. McKinley's claims on his party are great.—Courier-Journal.

People who failed to get farms in Oklahoma can console themselves by remembering that their failure frees them from liability for interest on McKinley mortgages.—St. Louis Republic.

Wyoming, where the "rustlers" and Uncle Sam's bluecoats are shooting each other, is the only state in which women vote. The moral of this is left for Susan B. Anthony to draw.—Chicago Times.

We trust Congressman Harter, of Ohio, will not overlook the fact that Senator Hill voted yesterday on the silver question. And after Mr. Harter has taken cognizance of this fact we should like to ask what he proposes to do about it.—New York Advertiser.

Amos J. Cummings writes a letter excoriating the members of congress who quote poetry in their speeches. Our caustic friend should remember how beautifully becoming poetry is in relieving the solid impression of the Congressional Record.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The great trouble with trades unions these days is that too many of the members are not actuated by the true spirit of brotherhood and are only too anxious to sacrifice the general good for supposed individual interest. It is a common human failing.—Altoona Times.

They are talking of again nominating Gov. McKinley for congress in Ohio this fall. Should he be nominated and elected, he would practically serve out his gubernatorial term before his congressional duties would begin. It is not to be inferred from this that statesmen are scarce in Ohio. Oh, no!—Boston Herald.

American citizenship should not be held so cheap as to be granted as a matter of course to every applicant who complies with the legal formalities. Aliens should be taught to feel that it is a prize to be earned and deserved, and they will learn to prize it more highly than a considerable number of those who have received it now appear to do.—Reading Times.

Senator Hoar remarked in the senate the other day that "the government is bankrupt already." Senator Hoar, it is needless to explain, is a rock-ribbed republican, and the government that he says is already bankrupt is also republican. To make the whole matter clear it is only needed to add that the bankruptcy was done by a billion dollar congress.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

As Mr. McKinley is at the head of the tariff robbery business and Mr. Blaine is a reciprocity man, Mr. McKinley should have been mentioned for the presidency before Mr. Blaine. Neither Mr. Harrison nor Mr. Blaine so well represent the republican idea as Mr. McKinley. It looks like injustice to nominate any republican but the governor of Ohio.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The action of the Nebraska convention will serve to contradict the assumption so generally made that everybody west of the Missouri river is spending his days and nights in clamoring for unlimited silver and a cheap dollar. It will have a wholesome effect upon the national convention and assist in steering it clear of the mistakes of some former national democratic conventions.—Chicago Herald.

YELLOW FEVER ON BOARD.

New York, April 25.—The British ship Imberhorne, from Rio Janeiro, is detained at quarantine for disinfection. She reports that her steward and one seaman were sent to the hospital at Rio, suffering with yellow fever, where both died. Eight seamen were down with the disease after leaving Rio, but all recovered.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Parkville, L. I., April 25.—The four large stables on the dairy farm of the Cheshire Improvement company, together with 24 cows, 13 horses and an immense quantity of fodder, were burned at an early hour this morning. The loss is roughly estimated at $60,000.

THE QUEEN OUT FOR AN AIRING.

Paris, April 25.—Queen Victoria started from Costebello to-day for Darmstadt, this being the anniversary of the birth of her daughter, the late Princess Alice, mother of the new grand duke of Darmstadt.

TURNBULL DEAD.

London, April 25.—Thomas Turnbull, who died at Whitley to-day, was the builder of about one hundred first-class iron steamships.

SHERMAN AND FORAKER.

A Bitter War Being Waged at Defiance.

The Two Factions Strongly Backed and the Fur Flying on all Sides.

Defiance, O., April 25.—(Special)—The republican district convention for the Fifth district, to select delegates to the national convention, is in progress here this afternoon.

The counties of Defiance, Henry, Paulding, Putnam, Van Wert and Williams are comprised in this district and a fair percentage of delegates are in attendance.

Marble, of Van Wert; Beggs, of Putnam; Holcomb, of Paulding; Hay, of Defiance; Trowbridge, of Henry, and Eaton, of Williams, are in the fight.

As there are but two delegates to be selected the contest will be decidedly warm. Two alternates are to be chosen, but there is no friction at that point.

The Foraker faction had everything its own way until recently.

At the county convention the Forakerites were on top and their leader, F. L. Hay, made a candidate for delegate to the national convention.

It was reported on the streets this morning that the Sherman men of Van Wert, Williams and Henry had formed a combination to down any Foraker candidate put before the convention. These counties have a majority of the delegates present, and aided by the Sherman following from the other counties they will be able to carry out their plans.

Sherman Slate.

A slate has been made out by the Sherman men that will go through without a doubt.

Eaton and Marble are on the program for delegates, and Haymaker of Defiance and either W. H. Mathews or Beggs, of Putnam, for alternates; Trowbridge of Henry for elector.

A DAMAGE SUIT

Arising Cut of the Republican Convention Row.

Jacob Kurtz After Postmaster Brown for Calling Him an Unbecoming Name—Brown Denies the Charge.

A lawsuit is likely to result from the fight in the republican convention Saturday.

Postmaster Brown during the course of his remarks used a certain epithet not fitted for publication, and which is, therefore, not used in the Bee's report. The epithet was supposed to be aimed at Mr. Jacob Kurtz.

Mr. Kurtz, when he heard of it, was naturally hot under the collar. He saw his attorney and decided to bring suit for $50,000 damages.

Mr. Brown this morning had a long talk with Mr. Kurtz, and friends are endeavoring to settle the trouble.

Mr. Brown, it is claimed, says that he used the expression, but that it was not aimed at Mr. Kurtz. His friends say it was applied to the person he was then attacking—a certain editor. Brown knows who he meant, but now dodges.

The row shows the bitter feeling that exists among Toledo republicans. A suit for damages will not settle the trouble. The breach is growing wider and wider, and Saturday's convention was but the beginning of considerable trouble.

THE READING COMBINE.

What It Has Done for the People.

Thousands of Men Thrown Out of Employment and Prices to Go Up.

New York, April 25.—The Herald this morning prints a three-column article on the Reading coal deal, in which it says:

"The combination has been in active existence three weeks. In the great Lehigh Valley coal region it has thrown 60,000 men out of their employment, half of the time.

"In the flourishing cities of the lower valley it has deprived 2,000 workmen of half of their employment and saved from their wages $75,000.

"Its restriction of the coal product is a sure forerunner of the coming advance of coal prices, which is to increase the cost of manufacturing in all eastern states, the prices of manufactures for the whole country and the cost of living for the people of New York.

"The only cause for all this disturbance of business and misfortune to the people is an attempt to make an unprofitable railroad pay excessive dividends for two other railroads, which it has no right to possess."

NATIONAL SHIRT MAKERS

An Association Formed in New York.

Father Huntington Talks to the Workers on His Plans for Aiding the Poor.

New York, April 25.—A national convention of shirt makers, shirt cutters and laundry workers, the first of its kind in this country, was held yesterday in the Florence building at First street and Second avenue.

Fifty delegates from the largest cities in the United States were present. A national association was formed. It will be called the National Shirt Trade association.

The first convention of this new association will be held in Philadelphia on September 4. Father James O. S. Huntington was the principal speaker at the convention. He said that he was strongly in favor of trades unions. He advocated the formation of boards of conciliation, to be composed of employer and employes for the purpose of adjusting disputes and avoiding strikes and boycotts.

Referring to his work in the tenement house districts of the city, Father Huntington said he had a plan by which he hoped the people who lived in tenement houses would be able to bring to the attention of the wealthy men and women of this city their exact condition.

He said that he had made arrangements to go with a large number of men and women who live in tenement houses to the homes of some of the wealthiest persons in the city on Saturday, instead of waiting for the rich to visit the poor in their homes.

Many wealthy persons were, he said, interested in the scheme, which he believed would result in arousing the interest of those who are able to carry out some long cherished reforms in the construction of houses for poor people.

NEWS AROUND THE LAKES

Vessel Owners Perfecting Their Plans

For a Strong Organization on Thursday.

Rates of Insurance—The Merrill Raised—Vessel Passages—General Marine Gossip.

Chicago, April 25.—(Special Marine Service)—The Independent tug line offers to wager $1,000 that the tug Welcome can outrun any boat in the harbor. Capt. Barry says the money is ready.

Dispatches announce that a thorough canvass is being made of the vessel owners of all the principal ports of the lakes, and that a strong general organization is already secured. It is likely that M. A. Hanna or A. Bradley, of Cleveland, will be chosen president of the new organization at Detroit next Thursday. Capt. Keith is actively at work in Chicago and will be one of the delegates to the Detroit meeting.

Lieut. Baker, of the marine division of the World's fair, is confident that the lakes will be well represented in the marine exhibit. The principal lake exhibit he knows of thus far will be from the Sheriffs' Manufacturing company, of Milwaukee, F. N. Wheeler & Co., the Bay City shipbuilders; the Detroit Dry Dock company; Davis Boat and Oar company at Detroit; Detroit Boat works; Cleveland Shipbuilding company; Globe Iron works, of Cleveland; City Forge company, of Cleveland; the Brown Hoist company; Union Dry Dock company; Dunbar & Co., elevator contractors, all of Buffalo. Lieut. Baker says it is his desire to pay special attention to the historical feature of marine subjects.

Capt. J. S. Quinn, the successful marine diver, raised the schooner John B. Merrill yesterday from the bottom of the Detroit river.

The steel steamer City of Chicago takes her place on the Chicago and Benton Harbor and St. Joseph route to-morrow, with MacIntosh in command. The City of Marquette, which has been under charter, returning to her Milwaukee and St. Joseph route. The new propeller for the Graham & Morton line will be commanded by Capt. Stine.

Grain vessels have been suffering considerable detention at Port Huron elevators. The Northern line steamer Northern Wave which wintered here, goes straight to Lake Superior.

The latest tariff promulgated by lake underwriters is one of trip rates on lumber as follows: Lake Huron—to Lake Erie and Lake Michigan ports, 25 cents; to Lake Ontario ports 30 cents; Ogdensburg, 35 cents. Lake Superior—To Lake Michigan and Lake Huron, 30 cents; to Detroit river, 35 cents. Lakes Superior and Michigan and Georgian Bay to Lake Erie ports, 30 cents. For cargoes on B 11-2, charge 50 per cent. additional. For cargoes on B 2, charge 100 per cent. additional.

The schooner Cora A's damages have been repaired and she has left Manitowac for her destination at Cherlevoix.

Duluth, April 25.—(Special Marine Service)—At least 25 boats are in sight of harbor fast in the ice this morning. Wind continues northeast, packing the great ice floe more solidly every hour. Buffalo wheat rate, 2 3-4c.

Ore Rates.

Cleveland, April 25.—(Special Marine Service)—Cargoes of both coal and ore are more plentiful to-day and the lookout is altogether better for vessel interests, although rates are no higher.

Freights offered by ore shippers are 65 cents from Escanaba, 80 cents from Marquette and $1 from Ashland.

Contract running through whole or part of season could very probably be made improvement on these figures.

Little Coal to Carry.

Buffalo, April 25.—(Special Marine Service)—It transpires that Reading and Lehigh Valley are restricting coal production for lake shipment and will pile up no stock here until upper lake supplies are gone. The steamer Escanaba loads for Milwaukee at 40.

WAR PREPARATIONS.

Rome, April 25.—Notwithstanding the critical condition of Italian finances the government is considering the question of erecting forts on the coast of Sicily, as an offset to the fortifications being erected by the French at Bizerta on the coast of Tunis.

Petroleum, as prepared by us, has superseded Cod Liver Oil. Why? Because Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is both food and medicine. Cod Liver Oil is merely food. In

To the Auditor of Lucas County:

Dear Sir—In accordance with resolution of the county commissioners dated February 24, 1891, the undersigned took observations to ascertain the declination of the magnetic meridian and respectfully reports the following:

Six readings were taken from each of the verniers ("A" and "B") at the north and south ends of the established meridian line, the average of which readings shows a declination of the needle from the true meridian of 29 minutes, 30 seconds west of north.

Instrument used was a Beckman Transit, No. 914. I hereby certify that the foregoing is a correct report of observations of the declination of the magnetic from the true meridian.

Respectfully submitted.

The largest gun manufactured at the Krupp gun works, Essen, Germany, weighs 270,000 pounds and is of the finest quality of steel. The caliber of this monster engine of death is 19 1-4 inches, and the barrel is 44 feet long. The greatest diameter of this gun is 6 1-2 feet, and its range is about twelve miles.

It is proposed to cast glass, not necessarily transparent, into large blocks for buildings. This material is practically indestructible, perfectly non-absorbent, and, therefore, damp-proof in a manner which few bricks are, and in this way coarse glass of this kind could be made nearly as cheap as concrete, stone or baked clay.

Privy Counsellor Shwartzkopff, one of Berlin's leading citizens, is dead. He was one of the most extensive manufacturers in Germany. He was the proprietor of large locomotive works, and was engaged in the production of marine torpedoes and other munitions of war. The councillor took an active interest in politics and was an ardent protectionist.

The Marchioness of Dufferin, it will be remembered, interested herself in securing more and better medical treatment for women in India, while her husband was viceroy of that country a few years ago. Now 460,000 of her sex get the benefit of attendance, and the staff which she was largely instrumental in establishing consists of nine women doctors and 31 assistants.

A champion in the middle ages was a person who appeared and took part in judicial combats as the hired representative of women, children, feeble persons and other non-combatants. The crown of England, since the time of William the Conqueror, has had a champion at coronations—a mounted yeoman, armed to the teeth, who challenges all who deny the king to be the true sovereign.

Critics differ. In this country few books have ever attained the popularity and wide sale that "Ben Hur" has enjoyed. In England the second edition has appeared recently, and the queen's critic says of the book: "People who do not buy books to read, but to look at, would do well to get this book." He adds that the book is intolerably dull, prosy, and, not to put too fine a point on it, silly.

Charles V., of France had a cup once, a queer looking goblet with a cover, which is now offered for sale in London for $40,000. James I., of England, is known to have presented it to Velasco, the Spanish ambassador. A Spaniard sold it to a Parisan collector and now the collector wants to sell it to the British Museum, and a subscription to raise the price is in progress.

Aniline dyes are noted for their great coloring power, one part of ros-aniline salt in 1,000,000 parts of water still possessing a deep crimson color and instantly dying a skein of silk moistened with vinegar. The dyes are used for many purposes—coloring toys, sweetmeats, wines, dress fabrics and other articles. The fugitive nature of some of them is rather a drawback. Germany is now the headquarters of the manufacture of these dyes. Large quantities are produced and used in this country also.

Stockton, Cal., has a sensation in the person of a young street preacher who is well-dressed, apparently an educated man and a good Bible student and theologian, who preaches and prays on the streets in the evening, induces his hearers to adjourn to one of the churches, where revival meetings are being held, while he himself repairs to the saloons of the town, gets drunk and conducts himself in every way like a depraved man. He is thought to be insane, as such depths of hypocrisy seem incompatible with any but an unbalanced mind.

An American missionary writes from the Yangste River that he tried in November last to buy land on which to build houses for the accommodation of a party of missionaries who were coming up the river. He thought he had secured the land. All arrangements had been made except signing the deed. Then the man who was selling the property heard a rumor that the missionaries ate children. That ugly rumor frightened the poor man and he declined to sign the papers. The missionary hoped that the man's fright would subside, but at last accounts he had not yet succeeded in buying the property.

The discovery of gold has been a great thing for the Boni negroes on the Maroni river, in French Guiana. They were terribly poor before the placer mines were discovered in 1888. Since then they have been getting rich in the transport service. They carry all freight around the rapids to the placer diggings at the enormous charge of 90 francs a barrel. Owing to their curious method of computing barrels they greatly increase their earnings. Each box is a barrel. Each man is a barrel. Demijohns and handbags are barrels. Thus they get about $200 a ton for carrying freight a distance of 180 miles, which is much higher than rates on the Congo. The miners say that $60,000 has been distributed in the past two years in the shape of five-franc pieces, or native gold, among the Bonis.

A LEGEND OF PERU.

Some of the natives of Peru have a tradition of the silver mines of Potosi, which runs as follows:

Many hundred years ago there lived a famous chief, named Orales.

After ruling for many years, he was about to abdicate in favor of his son, when news reached him that a fearful chief from the far south, was approaching, who had sworn to annihilate him.

When this came to the ears of the old chief, a strange feeling of fear came over him—not of death, but of defeat. He had never lost a battle, it is true; but he was now getting old and comparatively feeble; and here was an enemy with whose nature and prowess he was unacquainted; and the fearful presentiment arose in his mind that he would at last be vanquished and his days end in disgrace.

That night the old chief could not sleep; but quitting his camp, he wandered away into the fastness of a mountain; and while gloomily meditating upon the coming battle, a deep, clear voice above him, said:

"Orales, climb to the summit of this mountain, and learn how to conquer the unknown chief."

On reaching the summit, and finding no being there, he began to think himself the victim of some wild fancy, and was about to descend, when he was surrounded by hundreds of spirits, whose appearance dazzled his eyes like the noon-day sun.

"Orales," said the voice, "I know the desire of thy heart is to conquer the unknown chief, and on one condition thou shalt have thy wish."

"Name it," exclaimed Orales.

"It is," replied the Demon King, "that thou becomest mine, and thy beautiful daughter my queen. Consent, and thou shalt conquer—reject, and defeat and disgrace shall be thine!"

The stern old chieftain bowed his head upon his bosom and went. Then lifting his eyes and his hands, he murmured:

"Forgive me, Great Spirit of Good, for the act I am about to perform! And oh, Cinalita, my child, whom I am going thus to sacrifice, forgive thy wretched and miserable father!"

Then turning to the Demon, who was calmly awaiting his answer, he exclaimed:

"Oh, merciless Demon! let me claim thy promised aid!"

"Dost thou consent?" demanded the King.

"I do!" groaned the wretched man, "for I cannot face defeat!"

"And victory shall be thine!" replied the Demon King, "and more than victory! Thy nation shall wax rich and great, for this mountain shall give forth to them the shining ore which thou now beholdest glistening and dazzling in my throne! Yes, Orales, thy nation, instead of being cut off from the face of the earth, shall become rich and powerful, and remain so forever—I, the Demon King, swear it! Remember thy promise, and on the seventh day from thy victory, forget not to meet me here with Cinalita!"

Orales gazed with a feeling of awe as the Demon sunk gradually down the shining sides of the cavern, surrounded by his glittering retainers, and as the whole band disappeared from the enchanted vision of the aged chieftain.

Weary and disconsolate, he now returned to his camp, and calling for his war steed, rode swiftly into the city, and to his palace. There, shutting himself in his chamber, the troubled Orales paced to and fro the livelong night, a prey to such terrible emotions as only a fond father might feel.

Dawn came at last, and with it, in the heart of Orales, a desire for victory at any sacrifice.

With hasty preparations for the coming struggle he passed through the chamber of Cinalita, who, hearing his steps, exclaimed—

"Victory attend thee, my noble father!"

A sudden pang shot through the heart of the old warrior at these words, and turning quickly to her he exclaimed in a tremulous voice—

"Oh, Cinalita—sweet idol of my soul—a fearful sacrifice that victory will cost me!" and hastily kissing her proffered cheek, Orales left his beautiful daughter to ponder his mysterious words, while he, with rapid strides, went forth to head his legions.

Scarcely had he passed the portals of his palace, when he became conscious that a shining figure was flitting past him, and he heard the words:

"When the sun is high in the heavens, the Mountain Demon sends his legions!"

Two hours later the opposing forces met. For a time the human masses swayed to and fro, and thousands fell, but neither could claim the victory. At length, finding the enemy still pressing forward, and one by one his standards being taken, the old chief began to fear defeat. It was nearing noon, and still he had received no aid from the Demon. Was it all a delusion? Was he to be conquered and captured at last? Where was his spirit ally? And why did he not keep his word?

"He hears and draws near!" were the syllables which seem whispered in his ear; and turning his head in the direction of the mountain, he saw a cloud of dust advancing.

Soon the cloud dissolved, and a body of horsemen emerged from it, sweeping onward with irresistible fury.

Nearer and nearer they came, till, with whirlwind speed they swept down upon the ranks of the opposing chief, and silently, without mortal sound, performed their work of destruction, and put the enemy to rout.

The victory was complete, the silent legions rolled back, till lost to sight; and none but Orales could say who they were, whence they came nor whither they went.

Re-forming his warriors the old chief returned in triumph to the city, where he was welcomed by Cinalita. On seeing her Orales bowed his head and groaned; for he remembered the cost of the victory, and that she and himself were already doomed to an eternal abode with the Demon of the Mountain.

But seven days yet remained to both. Orales commanded a seven days' fast, and at the expiraton of this time the people were summoned together to hear the words of their chief; and when all were assembled he appeared in their midst, holding Cinalita by the hand, who, as well as her aged father, appeared bowed by some terrible grief.

As soon as all had become silent, he proceeded, in a sad tone of deep dejection, to state his whole interview with the demon. Loud and wild were the lamentations which rent the air, as the gathered thousands comprehended that for their good their noble chief and idolized Cinalita were lost to them forever.

When Orales had done, he bade his weeping subjects follow him to the foot of the mountain, where he and Cinalita bade them an eternal farewell—the old chief proclaiming, that if, on the third day of his disappearance, his people would come in and dig where he stood, they would find an abundance of a shining substance, that, properly used, would make them rich, powerful and great.

The noble old chief slowly began the ascent of the rugged mountain.

When he and his weeping daughter had toiled to the summit, the people, who remained gazing after him, felt the earth tremble and roll; then the mountain yawned and divided; and then the terrified spectators beheld their chief and Cinalita floating down a dazzling chasm, into brilliant chambers far below, attended by shining spirits who continue to chant a wild melody till all had disappeared, when, with a terrible crash the mountain closed, and all was darkness around.

Agreeable to their old chief's directions, on the third day they repaired to the mountain, and, digging where he told them, obtained the precious metal, which enriched them and their descendants, and many believed that the shining metal came from the sacrifice of Orales, and that the drops of liquid silver (quicksilver), sometimes obtained with it, are the tears of the beautiful Cinalita.

And to this day the superstitious miners assert that Cinalita may be seen at certain periods, flitting through the darksome caverns of the mines, attended by her demon time.—New York News.

The court gave him eight days.

John Murray IV. has for several years been a partner in the great London publishing-house of "John Murray," of which the head, John Murray III., died April 2, at the age of 84. An interesting reminiscence of the first John Murray is the little-known fact that his name was Mc-Murray, and that he dropped the "Mc" when he went into business in London, "in deference to English prejudices." John Murray II. was Byron's and Washington Irving's publisher.

A Weighty Argument

For the use of the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt is that it goes to the root of the disease, while other remedies strike only at the disease.

Notice the distinction.

For instance: Pills and purgatives which act quickly upon the bowels irritate and destroy the mucous coats of the stomach and bowels. A continued use of such remedies produces chronic inflammation of the stomach and bowels. The use of the genuine imported Carlsbad Sprudel Salt is, therefore, highly recommended because its action is due solely to its constitutional solvent and stimulating properties, without irritating the stomach. Be sure, however, to obtain the genuine imported article.

This offer is open until January 1st., 1893. For particulars address the undersigned.

Who can show us how to make it without alcohol so that we can make ACME BLACKING as cheap as water dressing, or put it in fancy packages like many of the water dressings, and then charge for the outside appearance instead of charging for the contents of the bottle?

A BIG RAIN CAME DOWN

And Spoiled Another Game for Toledo.

Result of the Play on Saturday and Sunday—Sporting Notes—The Case of "Paddy" Bolan.

The League clubs are improving every chance to catch up on their schedule. Several teams played two games on Saturday. New York and Washington split even, New York winning one 8 to 1 and losing one 4 to 5. Cleveland and Cincinnati only played one game, but that was enough for Comiskey, as Cleveland won 14 to 5. Pittsburg and St. Louis played two and Pittsburg won both of the games. Von Der Ahe has struck a losing streak and will tear his excellent club to pieces. Boston and Baltimore played two games; Boston won both, 11 to 7 and 19 to 9. Brooklyn won one game from Philadelphia, 12 to 0, and played another tie into darkness, 2 to 2.

In the Western league Saturday Omaha defeated Toledo 5 to 2, St. Paul defeated Indianapolis 8 to 1, Milwaukee won from Minneapolis 6 to 3, Kansas City beat Columbus 3 to 1.

Only one League game was played Sunday, that of Cincinnati and St. Louis, and the former won, 10 to 2.

In the Western, Toledo was again stopped by rain. Milwaukee defeated Minneapolis 9 to 6, Columbus won from Kansas City 11 to 3, and St. Paul took a game from Indianapolis 5 to 2.

To the Sporting Editor Bee: It is too bad that the management of the Toledo Base Ball association saw fit to engage all their players from outside of our own boys, some of whom in every respect are equal in their respective positions to any in the country. The case of "Paddy" Bolan, for instance, whose record with the Northwestern and Indiana leagues last season, was unsurpassed by any other catcher in either association. His services, of course, are in demand by outside clubs at any time, and because of his being a Toledoan the preference should naturally have been better shown to him, but was not.

After having been promised a place as one of the catchers, he was then rejected for no given reason, thereby placing him in a very embarrassing position, he having refused several offers from other places. Mr. Bolan is a catcher of no mean ability, as his record shows, and is equal, if not superior in every respect, to Dell Darling.

As a Toledo boy he should have been shown more consideration, is the general opinion. OBSERVER.

—::—::—

A great many people are trying to make themselves believe that the present Toledo ball club is as good as the team of two years ago. But, judging from the only chance yet offered for comparison, they are wrong. Vickery, who pitched against Toledo Saturday, held the present club down to three hits, while the old Toledo club always made his heart sick. On August 22, 1889, Toledo hit him for 13 hits with a total of 22 bases, and won 8 to 3, with Smith in the box. On September 23, same year, Toledo hit him 18 times, with a total of 31 bases and won 17 to 4, with Smith in the box. On May 1, 1889, Toledo hit him 11 times, with a total of 13, and won 6 to 4, with Cushman in the box.

Vickery has not improved any in pitching, in fact he has not been holding his own, but nevertheless he fooled the Toledo club of '92, and did it very handsomely.

Sporting Notes.

Haddock will go to Louisville at his own figures.

Hurly is not doing any too good backstop work.

Corcoran is still umpire, regardless of Ed Rife's kick.

Toledo plays Omaha to-day and tries her luck against the Cowboys next.

Von Der Ahe had better fix up his pitching box and let his infield alone.

Toledo had 13 men left on bases Saturday, but Vickery was in the box and they died for him.

The Unknowns will play any nine in the city whose members are under 15 years. Tom Cavanaugh, captain.

Old Pete Browning is playing for Louisville once more. It's like dis, Pete, they can't get along without you.

Mascotts 22. Athletics 21; batteries for Mascotts, Gerkinsmyer and Baldwin; Athletics, Southard and Stutsman.

Doescher is an Eastern league umpire, but Larry O'Day seems to have got lost in the shuffle along with Jack Brennan.

Amateur ball players were arrested for playing games in Cleveland yesterday. The war on Sunday ball in that city promises to be waged with vigor.

The Emmet base ball club will give a dance at Chamberlain's hall to-morrow night. The boys have made arrangements for a good time and will treat all their friends handsomely.

The Unknown base ball club played a game with the Unknown Juniors, Sunday. The score was 36 to 3 in favor of the Unknowns. Batteries—Unknowns, Washburn and Davis; Unknown Juniors, Jones and Jaxon.

The Rodgers defeated a picked nine yesterday by the score 13 to 2. Hits, Rodgers 18, picked nine 1; batteries, for Rodgers, Reagan, Sullivan, Snow and Leary; for picked nine, Van Dette and Dexter; struck out, by Reagan 10, Snow 7, and Van Dette 8.

NAPOLEON REPUBLICANS.

The Sherman Foraker Fight is Still On.

The Federal Officers Seem to Have Got the Worst of It in the Henry County Squabble.

Napoleon, O., April 25.—(Special)—The representative republicans of Henry county met in convention Saturday afternoon for the purpose of selecting delegates to the state and district conventions.

There was some difficulty in hitting upon a mode of selecting these delegates.

Wm. Campbell moved that the usual method be adopted; that a committee of five be appointed to select the delegates, etc., whereat Postmaster Zarbaugh, of Holgate, sprang to his feet and in a fiery speech denounced the method as unfair; that he would assert, and knew whereof he spoke, that the caucus was manipulated by several republicans who had the list of delegates already made out.

He moved as an amendment, that the delegates be elected by the caucus.

After a great amount of jangling on both sides, the amendment was lost and the original motion carried by a small majority.

Chairman Tyler thereupon appointed the committee, who reported the four state delegates to be C. Walcutt, Freedom; E. A. Palmer, Harrison; Hiram Van Campen and W. P. Tyler, Napoleon.

The committee also reported 19 delegates to attend the district convention to be held at Defiance to-day.

Both reports were adopted with but little opposition.

The state delegates are thought to be Foraker men, owing to the gigantic kick made by Postmaster Zarbaugh, who is a Sherman admirer from way back.

The caucus introduced and passed a resolution robbing the county executive committee of the privilege of indorsing the candidacy of an applicant for any government office, as individual members of that committee. The committee must meet and consider the claims of all applicants and then indorse but one, and that indorsement to be of the committee. Before the resolution was passed, however, it was considered feasible not to make the restriction too ironclad, and an amendment was made permitting the members of the committee to indorse any application individually "as citizens."

Although a large number of republicans were in attendance the work and talk was done by Van Campen, Campbell, Couch, Palmer and Bradley, and the remainder merely did the heavy "aye" business to all propositions advanced.

A time for holding the county convention was discussed, but no action taken.

A TOLEDO GIRL'S SUCCESS.

A MODERN HUSBAND

To be Shown Up in Farce Comedy

At Wheeler's Next Thursday at the Rowe Benefit—Chas A. Gardner at the People's This Week.

There will be produced at Wheeler's next Thursday, April 28, a farcical comedy by Prof. Alfred Henniquin. The play is entitled A Modern Husband. To say that this play is bright and well put together, is putting it mildly. It is a play of the most modern style of construction. While it is a farce, in contains, nevertheless, all the elements of a comedy, in the best sense of the word. The situations are funny to the uttermost, and the dialogue is crisp and full of wit. The characters are taken from life, and, although overdrawn, as characters usually are in comedies, one can locate them, perhaps in their own home.

The author, one of the foremost writers in the dramatic field, is well known to a great many of our fellow citizens. His long connection with the University of Michigan, his numerous articles in reviews and magazines, his able lectures on dramatic art, and, especially, the fact that he has revised some of the best plays that have been most successful for the last five years, all tend to lead us to expect a rare treat.

The play may cause many husbands to tremble, and may open the eyes of many wives, as it is said the Modern Husband is introduced in this play with all the foibles and little secret doings of man. The author will superintend the production.

Captain Karl.

Quaint and captivating Chas. A. Gardner, better known as Karl, will amuse the patrons of the People's theater this week, commencing to-night. Mr. Gardner, who is not only a sweet singer, but the most famous of German dialect comedians, will present his new romantic comedy, and greatest success, Captain Karl, in which, it is said, he has made a most pronounced hit. Gardner has been known for years as the most successful delineator of the jovial element in the rollicking German character, and there are now none who can equal him in showing the happy side of the jolly peasant. His stage pictures and groupings have all been taken from life. They never border on vulgar burlesque, but are full of refined, wholesome and refreshing humor.

Mr. Gardner is not only a captivating singer, but his dancing is easy and graceful, while his gift of scattering merry jests with mirth-provoking vivacity causes the most stoical of an audience to enter heartily into the actor's most joyous humor.

Captain Karl is described as a romantic picture of home life among the vineyard workers of Saxony, and is a satisfactory vehicle for the introduction of refined fun, merry songs and choruses. The leading role, gives Mr. Gardner fine scope to display his abilities as a German dialect artist and singer. Among the songs which he sings in his own happy way, are Language of Flowers, Invitation to the Wedding, Love Is Divine, Bubbles, Cradle Lullaby, Sweet Land Tyrol and the ever popular success, The Lilac.

A number of novel features showing characteristic scenes of German home life are interspersed throughout the play, the most prominent being The Procession of the Infant Bacchus and A Wedding Fete. The famous Fatherland Tyrolean Quartet also appear and render their unique mountain songs and choruses. The company is composed of over 20 people, who furnish adequate support. The scenic effects and the costumes are also said to be well worth seeing.

An old prospector of Eureka, Nev., had been in the habit of putting his powder in hot water to thaw. The other day he put some powder in a can of water and placed the whole thing on the forge fire. The same water had been used for the same purpose several times before, and had naturally absorbed considerable nitro-glycerine. When the water became heated it exploded, blew the force to the unknown and tore the clothes clean off the astonished prospector. Nitro-glycerine will not amalgamate with water and stand fooling with.

PREVENTION BETTER THAN CURE.

Many persons are afflicted with skin eruptions, boils and ulcers. Brandreth's Pills taken freely will in a short time effect a complete cure of all such troubles. Ulcers of long standing have been cured by them. Carbuncles have been checked in their incipiency by them. The worst fever sores, bed sores, and the like have been driven from the skin by them. Only begin in time and a few of Brandreth's Pills will prevent many a sickness.

Brandreth's Pills are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless, and safe to take at any time.

Mr. Samuel Butler is lecturing in England on the question, "Was Homer a Woman?" He believes the Iliad was written by a man, but he regards the Odyssey as the product of a woman. The reasons he alleges for his belief are not complimentary to the fair sex. He says the poems show almost incredible ignorance of the detail of common every-day matters. The author evidently knew nothing about ships, and displayed ignorance in other ways. He ventures to say that if the Odyssey were to appear anonymously for the first time now there is not a critic who would not say it was the product of a woman.

LOOK AT THIS.

Are these not healthy and bright children? Their appearance does not misrepresent them; they are both healthy and bright. They are the son and daughter of Mr. J. P. Wiley, of Dorchester, Mass., and he has an interesting story to tell in regard to them. The story is as follows:

"In 1885 my wife, accompanied by my little boy, at that time 11 months old, was visiting relatives in Scranton, Penna. The little fellow was suffering untold agony cutting his teeth. My wife was told to try Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion. The effect was magical. It did not stupefy the child, as most remedies of this character do; it simply soothed the pain of the burning and aching gums. I might write a volume, had I the time, praising this remedy, and then not express my feelings or do it justice, it is simply marvellous. After her return to Boston she wanted another bottle, but I found that it was unknown in this city. I corresponded with Dr. Hand, and received in reply a sample of each of his remedies. I used them on both my children, recommended them to all my friends, and have yet to find the person who, after using the remedies, especially Teething Lotion and Colic Cure, that could not praise them. People may say, and have said to me: 'Oh, there must be something in that Teething Lotion that affects a child's brain.' In reply to this, I will say I have two children, a boy and girl, who have been treated with Teething Lotion since time of beginning to end of teething, and I challenge any person to furnish two with any clearer brains. I cheerfully recommend them to parents who love their little ones."

A little book, illustrated, full of sense and suggestion, or sample bottle, will be sent to any one in the land, FREE.

MARKETS ARE FIRMER

Weather and Crop Conditions Were Factors.

An Over-Sold Market Also a Condition.

Market Quotations from all Over the World for the Benefit of Bee Readers.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth, 330,354 bus and at five other western points 720,008 bus. Monday in 1891 the receipts of wheat at these five points were 146,200 bus.

The export clearances Saturday at four Atlantic ports were wheat 375,138 bus and flour to an aggregate of 425,000 bus. Exports of corn 161,833 bus and of oats 1,563 bus.

English markets as reported hereon open unchanged in price and dull.

The world's exports of wheat last week to the continent and England equaled 5,720,000 bus. The estimated requirements over the deliveries of home grown wheat were 7,000,000 bus.

The shipments of wheat from India last week equaled 900,000 bus. Previous week 1,000,000. Since April 1st the beginning of the crop year to April 23, 3,060,000 bus, compared with 1,560,000 bus in the corresponding period in 1891.

Ohio Crop Bulletin, April 23.—Northeastern section, cold, dry, northeasterly winds, with lack of sunshine, was injurious to wheat. Same over northwestern section. Middle section wheat and grass made moderate growth, checked by cold and high winds. Southern section wheat and grass fair growth and improved outlook. Peaches half killed; apples and cherry buds all right.

The Markets To-day.

The wheat markets on this side of the water have exhibited unexpected firmness to-day. Early cables were certainly discouraging to the hopes of bull dealers, and the conditions of crops and the weather on this side furnished the only regulating eventualities. These influences rather aided sellers. The weather over the winter wheat belt remains cool with dry northeast winds, and it is not growing weather. The condition of the wheat crop is late, and the end must be late. This feature promises to be a general one abroad, also. In England and on the continent, whatever the result may be, the promise is for a late crop. This should not be lost sight of in the estimates of disposing of the surplus wheat.

But the chances are an oversold market for May had its due influence in sustaining prices. One more factor, doubtless, had its influence, and that was a decrease of almost three millions in the visible supply. Of course the improvement was light, but otherwise prices would perhaps have declined.

Foreign markets do not show any improvement of note at close.

New York May wheat closed 5-8c and July 3-8c up. May corn 3-8c and July 1-4c lower. May oats 1-8c up.

In Chicago May wheat closed 3-8c up, and July 1-2c. May and July corn 1-4c lower. May oats 1-8c up.

In Toledo.—The trading in wheat futures has been light, but it has been a firm market and prices have scored a fair advance, especially for July and August. May was the least active on the list, opening at 91 3-4c and closing at 92c, a gain of 1-2c. July started at 85c, sold up to 1-2c and closed at 85 1-8, a gain of 7-8c. August sold at 84c and closed at 1-8c, a gain of 7-8c.

Cash wheat was firm and scarce. No. 2 soft sold at 92c, and at close 92 1-4c was the market. No. 3 soft at 89 1-8 to 89 1-2c. Rejected No. 1 at 85c. No. 2 white at 89c. Corn—No. 2 at 41c. No. 3 at 41c. Clover Seed scarce, some inquiry. Prime sold at $6.50.

The visible supply of wheat was decreased last week 2,904,000 bus. Corn decreased 2,634,000 bus. Oats decreased 107,000 bus. In the corresponding week in 1891 wheat increased 157,000 bus. Corn increased 226,000 bus. Oats increased 114,000 bus.

New York visible supply: wheat 39,152,000. Corn 7,342,000. Oats 3,114,000.

FOR THE TOILET

There is no more useful or elegant article than Ayer's Hair Vigor—the most popular and economical hair-dressing in the market. It causes the hair to grow abundantly and retain the beauty and texture of youth; prevents baldness, heals troublesome humors of the scalp and keeps it clean, cool, and healthy. Both ladies and gentlemen everywhere prefer Ayer's Hair Vigor to any other dressing for the hair. Mrs. Lydia O. E. Pitts-ton, Me., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for some time, and it has worked wonders for me. I was troubled with dandruff and falling hair, so that I was rapidly becoming bald; but since using the Vigor, my head is perfectly clear of dandruff, the hair has ceased coming out, and I now have a good growth, of the same color as when I was a young woman. I can heartily recommend the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor to any one suffering from daudruff or loss of hair."
